- Demographic : Portreath, Redruth, Camborne and London.
- Ages : Between the aged of 6 and 14

We engaged with young people in the park, where we promoted the upcoming summer activities. Several were on holiday and unfamiliar with the sea, so we provided guidance on sea safety. We also interacted with younger children through a game of Uno, which supported relationship building.

Following this, we moved to the beach and village areas. Engagement was limited, but we spoke with two young people near the beach steps, discussing their summer plans and further promoting the activities. One recognised us from previous sessions, indicating continuity of contact.

Overall, the session was quiet but positive, with meaningful interactions and reinforcement of key messages.
