

PORTREATH PC SEPTEMBER 2024

Well where did summer go, if you can call it much of a summer, however as the schools go back this week, the weather may start to improve.

August is usually a quiet month, so not a great deal to report, however I am pleased to see that the markings have reappeared on the triangle at the top of Trega Hill, I did email the Highways Manager complaining about the further delay late one evening to receive an email early the following morning informing me it was done that night along with junction in Park Bottom.

During our ride around the speed on Chapel Hill, Porthtowan was discussed, which of course is outside my Division, however a full RADAR check will be carried out on Mile Hill in due course along with Cot Road through the dark section of Tehidy Woods and the Travellers Rest junction, which of course is a regular accident spot.

Last week I had my first meeting with our new MP Perran Moon in Portreath at the same time as the scaffolding was coming down from the Parish Office building. We discussed various items relating to Portreath including the flood risk and sewage.

It was also brought to my attention that the private gypsy site next to Rookery Farm are now advertising Wild Camping and there was a sign on the gate regarding an application for a certified caravan site for the Caravan Club.

Unfortunately I will not be here next Month as I will be attending the World Heritage UK Annual Conference which this year is taking place in Redruth as I had negotiated it to be in Heartlands before the closure of the facilities.
